According to the Libraries' New Course Proposal and syllabus, the new course NFS 245 will not entail research using the Libraries' collections. Course readings will come from two required textbooks; there are no required journals. For a written assignment, students will conduct research using publicly accessible websites and Open Access journals (as per email correspondence with Professor Camberg). According to the Library Questionnaire, no supplementary library resources will be required. Based on this information, in my role as subject selector, I conclude that this course will not require additional library resources.
