Singewald again

To the Cigar:

This letter is in response to the letter of Feb. 2, by Frank Singewald, entitled Homosexuality hit. After reading the letter several times I was still unable to determine what the overall theme was. The opening paragraph deals with the decay of society. Singewald writes, "The more idleness and deprivation in a society from the highest to those in the lowest brackets, the more 'misfits' it generates." This is quite a throwaway statement, but without any supporting evidence it is meaningless.

In the rest of the letter Singewald equates homosexuality and lesbianism to crime, corruption and pornography. Again no proof or supporting evidence is given. In this case there is no proof available to support such a statement.

But he writes it as if it is a well known fact that does not have to be documented. He then writes about venereal disease in Hartford, Conn. And claims it "is still our number one problem". He says nothing more of this.

Singewald writes that gays are 'more brazen than the communists ever were in their field"'. I have no idea how brazen the communists are in their field, and it doesn't appear that the writer of this letter does either since nothing else is written about it.

The rest of the letter is just disjointed. It runs from Indian temples with sculptures of orgies to labour honouring women.

The concluding statements include "This homo" activity is an insult to women. With no further explanation this makes no sense. The entire letter is disjointed with unsubstatiated. I think it is an insult to our intelligence for a letter of this type to even be published.

I hope in the future the Cigar will use more discretion in what it publishes and will not just put filler in the paper.
