Arts and Humanities Progress Report...

Since lunch with John Brademas, Jack Duncan ^{and I} have arranged to work together on drafting the amendments discussed, and this work is now in progress.

I will be working with Blair Crownover, drafter of the Education legislation and most familiar with A & H... Jean's drafts will have first priority -- but hopefully a good deal of the Arts and Humanities work will be completed during the recess and ready for your inspection.

I have informally clued in Greg Fusco, Sen. Javits man on arts and Humanities as well as education, on most recent developments. He has agreed to share his thoughts only with me at this point, but as in the past a close relationship with Sen. Javits is being maintained.
