chairman
FRANK STANTON

Dear Mr. Biddle:

You are cordially invited to attend the Sixth Annual Dinner of the Business Committee for the Arts at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Monday, April 9, 1973.

The program will begin with a conference from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. A special viewing of the current exhibition, "The World of Balenciaga," assembled by Diana Vreeland, former editor of "Vogue," will be available for you and your wife or guest starting at 6:30. We hope you will find it convenient to attend all sessions.

The evening affair will be black tie. We are pleased that our dinner speaker will be Senator Claiborne Pell, Chairman of the Special Subcommittee on Arts and Humanities.

A detailed schedule of activities is attached.

Please let us know on the enclosed reply card if you can come.

With all good wishes.

Sincerely,

Mr. Livingston Biddle
Administrative Aide to Senator Pell

BUSINESS COMMITTEE FOR THE ARTS

The Business Committee for the Arts, Inc., a private, tax-exempt, national organization formed in 1967, seeks to encourage business and industry to assume a greater share of responsibility for the support, growth and vitality of the arts. The Committee's activities are supported by contributions from its members.

The Business Committee for the Arts, Inc.:

Helps to organize local, state-wide and regional conferences to bring the art and business communities into close and fruitful relations with one another.

Publishes BCA News and Arts Business, an annual hard-cover book, pamphlets and other printed materials designed to provide current information on all aspects of the emerging place of business and the arts.

Conducts a nationwide campaign, in cooperation with The Advertising Council, in all media to generate public interest in and appreciation of the arts, as well as understanding of their economic problems.

Counsels corporations interested in initiating arts-support programs.

Counsels arts organizations on more effective ways to enlist corporate involvement and support of their activities.

Publicizes examples of corporate involvement in the arts through its sponsorship, with Equire Magazine, of the annual "Business in the Arts" awards competition and through an intensive on-going public relations program.

Speaks for business in cooperative endeavors with governmental and private agencies concerned with the arts.
