JOHN S. FORSYTHE, GENERAL COUNSEL

Mr. James D. Bowles
Manager, Tape Unit Division
Ampex, Computer Products Company
34 Charter Street
Redwood City, California

Dear Mr. Bowles:

In the course of preparing for a forthcoming speech on the relationship of art to industry, I came across an article you had written for the July 10, 1961 issue of Product Engineering.

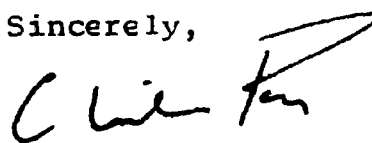

I thought the article was most interesting, well-written, and in complete accord with my own views.

I was particularly interested in your brief discussion of the sewing machine industry during and just after World War II. If it would not be too much trouble, I would be most appreciative if you would cite me chapter and verse, so to speak.

Although I realize this is a busy time of year, it would be most helpful if I could hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Claiborne Pell
