LSCA Amendments of 1983 (HR 2878) Simon

- reported out of Education and Labor Committee in mid-May
- House action in Fall

Bill amends and extends thru 1988 (Reconciliation extended thru '84)

No action in Senate - majority believes and we concur, that at this point there is no reason to highlight libraries with a bill that could be vetoed - since Administration opposes all funding.

House thinking may be that it is better to reauthorize the bill now and try to move it - gambling perhaps that the President will not veto a library bill in middle of re-election campaign.

Our position on minority is that the situation must be reassessed at frequent intervals - every 3 or 4 months - and get sense of how a library bill would be treated by the Administration. We also should proceed and plan hearings so that we are ready to move.

Some Changes in Simon bill:

The former Title IV (Older Reader Services) has been replaced with a special (2%) set aside for Indians. Funds to go directly from the Dept of Ed to tribes for developing library services. (Older Reader Services had never been funded so these programs were put under Title I as legitimate expenses)

Adds Title V - Foreign Language Materials Acquisition (grants directly to libs. for purchasing for. lang. mat.)

Title VI - Library Literacy Programs (grants to coordinate literacy programs)

Title II is amended to allow the purchase of existing historic buildings for conversion into libraries. In the past the Department had precluded all but new construction as permissible.

Higher Education Act Reauthorization

hearings in 84 (no date set)

Title II-A College Library Resources: currently gives the same size grant to each college library (not need-based) $1200 each

We will look at the possibilities of making these funds need-based, explore the ramifications in next year's reauth hearings.

Our options: 1) keep status quo 2) make the grants need-based or do something 3) like provide equal amounts to all and then provide some additional funds that would be need-based.

Title IIB and IIC probably no major changes but still a little early to tell. All will be considered next year.
