THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 10, 1987

Dear Senator Pell:

Thank you for your letter of June 9 to the President concerning the membership of the Board for the Institute of Museum Services.

It is my understanding that, currently, museum professionals represent approximately half of the board's membership, while the remaining members are distinguished citizens who are extremely active and committed to the museum field.

As we begin to review candidates for the upcoming vacancies in December, you may be assured that we will be mindful of the importance of having strong representation on the board from the pool of museum professionals. In this regard, your insights and recommendations are always welcome.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

William L. Ball, III
Assistant to the President

The Honorable Claiborne Pell
