United States Senate

COMMITTEE ON
LABOR AND HUMAN RESOURCES

June 5, 1979

TO: Senator

FROM: Jean/Sandy

Attached is the bill transferring the Museum Services Institute to the Smithsonian Institution, which you wanted to "hold in your pocket" when you introduce the bill extending the Arts and Humanities Endowments and the Museum Institute.

If this bill were introduced separately, it would be referred to the Governmental Affairs Committee, which has general jurisdiction over agency creation and transfer. You could probably arrange with Senator Ribicoff for concurrent or subsequent jurisdiction in the Labor and Human Resources Committee, since our legislation originally created the Institute.

If we include the transfer in the Arts and Humanities bill at some stage, we could probably avoid the jurisdictional conflict, unless someone actively opposed the transfer and alerted the Governmental Affairs Committee to request subsequent jurisdiction.

to hold for
