Dr. Rosalind E. Berman, who has been named to have some teething pains, has given Dr. John O. Blass, 55, president of the University of Washington, a major honor:

The faculty at the University of Washington has named the new president of the University of Washington, Dr. John O. Blass, to the post of chancellor of the university, an honor that will be given to Dr. Blass on Oct. 1, 1969.

The appointment was made at a special meeting of the university's board of regents, which met in Seattle yesterday. The appointment was made unanimously.

Dr. Blass, who has been at the university since 1964, will succeed Dr. John O. Blass as chancellor of the university, a position he has held since 1964.

Dr. Blass was appointed by the university's board of regents in 1964, and has served as chancellor of the university since then.
