Museum Services Act Reintroduced in Senate

On February 7 Sen. Claiborne Pell (D-R.I.) reintroduced the Museum Services Act in the U.S. Senate. The bill (S. 796) is intended to improve museum services by providing across-the-board Federal support for museums, including funding for renovation and new construction. Requested in the legislation is authorization for appropriations of $25 million in Federal funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1974 and $30 million for each succeeding fiscal year ending prior to July 1, 1977.

Introducing the Museum Services Act, Pell commented that "The legislation . . . will not meet the underlying financial stress being faced by the cultural community. It will, however, provide an increased level of support throughout the Nation and perhaps what is more important, maintain, and increase the climate which will be conducive to the development of our cultural growth."

S. 796 has been referred to the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, 4320 New Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 (202) 225-5375. (A similar bill introduced in the House, H.R. 332, is currently pending hearings before the Select Subcommittee on Education, B345A Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 (202) 225-5954.)

Endowments Up for Reauthorization

A bipartisan group of U.S. Representatives has introduced legislation to extend the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities for three years and greatly increase its budget. The Foundation, which includes the National Endowment for the Arts, the National Endowment for the Humanities and their advisory councils, was created by Congress in 1965 and is currently authorized through June 30, 1973. Called for by the bill (H.R. 3926) are authorizations of $450 million over the next fiscal year ending prior to July 1, 1977.

Introducing the legislation, Rep. Pell said, "The legislation . . . will not meet the underlying financial stress being faced by the cultural community. It will, however, provide an increased level of support throughout the Nation and perhaps what is more important, maintain, and increase the climate which will be conducive to the development of our cultural growth."

S. 796 has been referred to the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, 4320 New Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 (202) 225-5375. (A similar bill introduced in the House, H.R. 332, is currently pending hearings before the Select Subcommittee on Education, B345A Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 (202) 225-5954.)

Nixon Requests Increased Funding for Endowments, NMA

The budget recently submitted to Congress by President Nixon requests appropriations of $72.5 million in Federal funds for the National Endowment for the Arts and for the National Endowment for the Humanities for fiscal year 1974 (which begins July 1, 1973). This represents a substantial increase over the current budgets which provide approximately $3.8 million in Federal funds for each of the two Endowments.

For the National Museum Act, the Administration has requested an appropriation of $900,000 for fiscal year 1974. This represents a $100,000 increase over NMA's fiscal 1973 budget and a $300,000 increase over the amount authorized for the program's first year of operation. (NMA's full authorization is $1 million.)

Seminar Scholarships Available

Thanks to the recent receipt of a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, the AAM is able to offer a number of scholarships for attendance at the Seminar on the Legal Problems of Museum Administration to be held March 29-31 in Washington, D.C. To apply for the scholarships, which will be awarded on the basis of the individual applicant's museum position, financial need, distance to be traveled and museum discipline, contact Paul A. Wolkin or Curtis L. Wells, ALI/ABA Joint Committee on Continuing Legal Education, 4025 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19104 (215) 387-3000.

NMA Deadlines Approaching

April 1 is the deadline for applying for three new types of grants recently announced by the National Museum Act Advisory Council. Travel grants for beginning museum professionals, funds for research in conservation techniques and materials, and financial support for research in interpretive methods and approaches in exhibits may be applied for by contacting Frederick Schmid, Office of Museum Programs, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560 (202) 381-6581.

National Zoological & Aquarium Corporation Proposed

Virginia Republican Representative William Whitehurst has introduced in the 93rd Congress a bill to create a national zoological and aquarium to regulate zoos and aquariums across the nation. In addition to establishing an accreditation program, the proposed corporation would financially assist institutions in meeting standards, award grants for needed construction of animal buildings and structures, and establish training programs for professional staffs. The bill, H.R. 1266, has been referred to the Committee on House Administration, H326 Capitol, Washington, D.C. 20515.

"Are You a Museum Trustee?"

The future of every museum in the United States is determined by trustees. In 1970 the American Association of Museums authorized the formation of the AAM Museum Trustees Committee to assist Trustees in fulfilling their vital responsibilities to American museums. Membership on this Committee is limited to present and former trustees of museums and unites their efforts with museum directors and professionally trained staff concerned with federal and state programs, legislation and tax matters, museum accreditation, and the preservation of our cultural and educational heritage. It provides museum trustees an opportunity to communicate with other trustees in the national effort to increase the sources of museum funding and to assist them in meeting the obligations of their trusteeship.

The American Association of Museums represents the entire museum profession on a national level. Founded in 1906 and located in Washington, D.C., the American Association of Museums is a non-profit educational organization under Section 501 (e) (3) of IRS Code and is charged with the responsibility of promoting museums as cultural and educational institutions in the United States. It is supported primarily with membership dues and charitable contributions. Membership consists of institutions, including art, history and science museums, and individuals concerned with the future of museums.

Because of the growing awareness that museums are a vital part of human life in America, the role of the AAM and the Museum Trustees Committee is more important than ever. Museums attract more than 700 million visitors per year, and the AAM helps museums and trustees meet the increasing demand of this growing audience.

AAM Trustee Members will benefit from the following services:

1. TRUSTEES PUBLICATION PROGRAM
   The AAM provides information to trustee members through the publication of special reports, documents, and books:
   a. The Museum Trustees Handbook;
   b. The Effect of the Tax Legislation on Museums;
   c. Museum Trustees Directory;
   d. AAM Trustees Newsletter (quarterly);
   e. The Official Museum Directory of the United States and Canada, 1973;

2. TRUSTEES SEMINARS, MEETINGS, REGIONAL CONFERENCES, ANNUAL FORUMS
   Special seminars for museum trustees will be held on tax provisions, trustee responsibilities, museum techniques, public affairs, finances, and other specialized topics that pertain to the responsibilities of museum trustees. Trustees are encouraged to attend the AAM Annual Meetings, the AAM Regional Conference meetings, and other education seminars scheduled throughout the year.

3. TRAVEL PROGRAMS
   Specialized tours are planned to unusual locations with scholarly guides and lecturers. Trips are scheduled to coincide with international events of special importance to the museum profession.

AAM Trustee Members will benefit from the following Regular AAM Services:

1. Publications:
   A. Museum News (10 issues per year, the journal of the museum profession in the United States).
   B. AAM Bulletin (monthly, mailed first class postage), includes:
