Brief History of Phi Kappa Phi at the University of Rhode Island

From an undated and unattributed sheet found in the University of Rhode Island Library Archives:

Rhode Island State College – Phi Kappa Phi Chapter

“During the latter part of the college year of 1911 – 1912, a movement was started by members of the student body looking towards the establishment of an honorary scholarship fraternity at the College. Dr. Burt L. Hartwell, a member of the Massachusetts Agricultural College chapter, was asked by the faculty to investigate and report on the matter, and this resulted in the establishment of the chapter of Phi Kappa Phi. Such members of the college faculty as were members of national scholarship fraternities were elected as charter members and the first initiation ceremonies were conducted April 25, 1913, by Professor Sidney Haskell of the Massachusetts Agricultural College.”

“The Society holds at least one public meeting each year, usually near the opening of college in the fall, at which time the aim and objects of the society are explained to the student body. As custodian of the Burchard scholarship cup, the Society each year awards this trophy to the fraternity having the highest scholastic standing during the year. At the close of the year a banquet is held for the initiates, members and friends of the society. Once each year it is planned to hold a public meeting which is addressed by some prominent personage upon some phase of education.”

Original Student Council Request for a Rhode Island State College Phi Kappa Phi Chapter

The original letter requesting formation of Phi Kappa Phi chapter at the Rhode Island State College was sent to Professor Herman Churchill by the Secretary of the RI State College Student Council Secretary, J. Russell Esty. The original letter including the envelope it was mailed in is dated March 20, 1912.

To the Faculty of R.I.S.C.: It is the desire of a great many students that a national Honorary Fraternity be established at this institution. The Student Council requests that the Faculty take this matter into consideration or else recommend to the Student Council some feasible procedure whereby this purpose may be accomplished.

*Respectfully Yours,
J. Russell Esty
Secretary of Student Council!*

The First Entry into the Record Book by the Secretary, RI State College Phi Kappa Phi

The first entry into a book of record kept by the secretary of the newly formed chapter of Phi Kappa Phi at the University (then called Rhode Island State College) was this:

“Formation of the Rhode Island Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi”

“During the latter part of the school year 1911-12 a movement was initiated by members of the student body of the Rhode Island State College asking for an inquiry to be instituted regarding the possibility of securing an honorary scholarship organization at the College.

In line with this desire, Dr. B.L. Hartwell was appointed by the faculty to undertake correspondence looking toward the above-mentioned end. Accordingly, as Dr. Hartwell was already a member of the Amherst Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, he investigated the matter, and found out the conditions under which a chapter of Phi Kappa Phi could be formed at Rhode Island State College.

In accordance with instructions thus received, the faculty council of Rhode Island State College voted that those members of the faculty who were already members of national scholarship fraternities should constitute the necessary nucleus for organizing the new chapter. The following faculty members were thus appointed:

Dr. B.L. Hartwell, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi
Dr. V.L. Leighton, Phi Beta Kappa
Prof. John Barlow, Phi Beta Kappa
Prof. Royal L. Wales, Phi Kappa Phi
Prof. S.H. Webster, Tau Beta Pi
Prof. Herman Churchill, Phi Beta Kappa

Correspondence regarding organization continued until April 1913, when arrangements were completed for holding the initiation of charter members on April 25, 1913. Accordingly, on this date those concerned met at the Kingston Inn at 6:30 P.M. where the initiation ceremonies were conducted by Professor Sidney B. Haskell of the Massachusetts Agricultural College after which the company enjoyed a dinner at the Inn. Dr. Hartwell assisted Professor Haskell in initiating the other five member above mentioned.

Following this organization of the Chapter by initiation of Charter Members, a committee consisting of Dr. Hartwell and Professor Churchill was appointed to draft Constitution and By-Laws, and officers of the Chapter were elected as follow:

President – Prof. John Barlow
Treasurer – Prof. S.H. Webster
Secretary – Prof. H. Churchill.

Congratulatory letters on organization were received as follows:

M.C. Fernald, Pres. Maine Chapter Apr. 16, 1913
G.B. McDonald, Secy., Iowa State Coll., Chapter April 16, 1913
Anderson MacKinnie, Secy., Mass. Ag. Coll. Chapter April 24, 1913
J.S. Sterns, Registrar General, Mar. 17, 1913
C.L. Crow, Univ. of Florida Chapter, April 3, 1913
H.W. Hill, Pres. Nevada Chapter, April 12, 1913
E.E. Sparks, Pres.-General, Apr. 12, 1913
C.H. Gordon, Pres. Tennessee Chapter, April 7, 1913.”

Historical note

Phi Kappa Phi began in 1897 at the University of Maine as a student group dedicated to recognizing and promoting scholarship. A national organization was established in 1900 after the presidents of the University of Tennessee and Pennsylvania State College joined the president of the University of Maine in recognizing scholarship in all disciplines. Still active, Phi Kappa Phi can be found on the campuses of almost 300 colleges and universities in the United States, Puerto Rico and the Philippines. A brochure (See Folder # 46) contains more history about the Society.

The Rhode Island Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society was established at the University of Rhode Island in 1913. Members of the Society are undergraduates, graduate students and faculty elected from all fields of study. New initiates are honored annually at a banquet and also take part in the Honors Day Convocation.

Scope and Content Note

Records of the Rhode Island Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi are arranged as a General File (1912-1993) with two sub-series: Secretary's File and Subject File. The Secretary's File (1926-1969) of the R.I. Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi include membership lists of both students and faculty, lists of eligible candidates from the Office of the Registrar, minutes, letters of invitation and other correspondence, and treasurer's reports. The folders in the Secretary's File are arranged in chronological order. The Subject File (1912-1993) is arranged alphabetically by subject and chronologically within folders. The records contain information on Scholarship Cups, Honors Day Convocation, and Fellowships. There are also two bound volumes of minutes which contain some annual reports/scrapbook material from the years 1914-1956.
