
Ann Dunnington

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/pell_neh_I_81

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/pell_neh_I_81/72

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Education: National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities, Subject Files I (1973-1996) at DigitalCommons@URI. It has been accepted for inclusion in Rhode Island State Council on the Arts (1979-1992) by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@URI. For more information, please contact digitalcommons-group@uri.edu.
Corps. create a relationship between businesses and arts

By Ann Duntungan

The Providence accounting firm of Paul, Marcovitz, Kaplan and Drew, a member of the Corporation of the Arts, has joined the firm as a member of the Corporation's business arts partnership. The partnership is designed to provide businesses with the opportunity to make a meaningful contribution to the arts, and to provide the arts with the resources they need to thrive.

The partnership is a unique combination of business and arts expertise, and will provide a wide range of services to businesses and arts organizations. The partnership will work closely with businesses to understand their needs and goals, and to develop strategies that will be beneficial to both parties.

Businesses and arts organizations are encouraged to participate in the partnership, and to explore the many opportunities it offers. By working together, businesses and arts organizations can create a positive impact on the community, and help to ensure the long-term vitality of the arts in Providence.

For more information about the partnership, or to discuss how it can benefit your business or organization, please contact Paul, Marcovitz, Kaplan and Drew at (401) 421-8030.