Assessment of:

- Suitability of existing library resources;
- New library resources required to support the program;
- Information skills education required by the students; and
- Funds needed for library materials and services.

Please include:

1. What library holdings already exist in relevant subject categories, including supporting collections from HELIN. How much money is now allocated in the program area?

   The URI monograph collections in relevant subject categories are large, diverse and up-to-date. Additional monographs in relevant areas are available through the HELIN Library Consortium. Approximately $4500 is allocated to Sociology/Anthropology for monographic acquisitions this year.

2. Does URI have the essential journals as noted in the Faculty Questionnaire?

   URI has the essential journals or has access to all journals listed in the Faculty Questionnaire.

3. What new resources are required to support the course (including media, electronic, or other non-print materials)?

   No new library resources are required to support this course.
4. What information mastery sessions will be required for the students?

   No information mastery sessions are required for the students. However, they could benefit from having a library instruction session with a Reference Librarian to help learn about how to most effectively use the databases relating to this subject area.

5. What is the approximate cost to acquire the materials necessary? Which of these will be continuing costs?

   There are no new library related costs related to this course.
