Assessment of:

- Suitability of existing library resources;
- New library resources required to support the program;
- Information skills education required by the students; and
- Funds needed for library materials and services.

Please include:

1. What library holdings already exist in relevant subject categories. How much money is now allocated in the subject area?
2. Does URI have the essential journals as noted in the Faculty Questionnaire?
3. What new resources are required to support the course (including media, electronic, or other non-print materials)?
4. What information mastery sessions will be required for the students?
5. What is the approximate cost to acquire the materials necessary? Which of these will be continuing costs?

[This is an updated LIS based on the MUS461 impact statement from 10/5/21]

URI Libraries holds the essential and non-essential resources cited in the course request form – Oxford Music Online and Music Index Online, as well as subscriptions to American Music Teacher (1999-Present) and Piano Magazine (2019-Present). URI Libraries also holds related resources RILM and broader resources such as ERIC (education) and Proquest One Business, as well as several biographical databases.

In addition, there are 203 monographs with the subject heading, 'Piano – Instruction and Study' and 25 monographs with the subject, Piano – methods.'

URI Libraries has sufficient resources to support this course.
