

1-30-1979

Letters (1979): Correspondence 194

Claiborne Pell

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/pell_neh_I_42

Recommended Citation

Pell, Claiborne, "Letters (1979): Correspondence 194" (1979). Letters (1979). Paper 178.
https://digitalcommons.uri.edu/pell_neh_I_42/178

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Education: National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities, Subject Files I (1973-1996) at DigitalCommons@URI. It has been accepted for inclusion in Letters (1979) by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@URI. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@etal.uri.edu.

January 30, 1979

Mr. John Hebel
6049 Ramshorn Place
McLean, Virginia 22101

Dear Mr. Hebel:

Thank you for your recent and most thought-provoking letter.

I regret to say that at the moment I have no particularly pertinent ideas as to how your experience at the Potomac School might be used in the ~~public~~ sector. There is welcome increase in the amount of attention being paid to arts education but thus far there has not been a significant increase in programs and jobs.

Two people on my staff might be able to assist you further as you explore employment possibilities. They are Alexander Cray, who is my staff member for arts and humanities matters and Jean Frohlicher who, as Counsel for my Subcommittee on Education, Arts, and Humanities, knows the program areas at HEM well. They both can be reached at 224-7666. Please feel free to call on them.

Warm regards.

Ever sincerely,

Cláiborne Pell

AC:CF