Assessment of:

- Suitability of existing library resources;
- New library resources required to support the program;
- Information skills education required by the students; and
- Funds needed for library materials and services.

Please include:

1. What library holdings already exist in relevant subject categories. How much money is now allocated in the subject area?

The library has extensive materials, both historic and current, in relevant subject categories. As the topic involves several disciplines, it is difficult to assign a number to the amount of money allocated to this subject. There is plenty of money in our "general" fund, as well as in Political Science, Sociology, etc. for the purchase of monographs for the 2021-22 year. The cost of journal and database subscriptions is not broken out by department or college.

2. Does URI have the essential journals as noted in the Faculty Questionnaire?

There are no essential journals noted in the Faculty Questionnaire.

3. What new resources are required to support the course (including media, electronic, or other non-print materials)?

No new library resources are required to support this course.

4. What information mastery sessions will be required for the students?

Students in this course will not be doing research. No library information mastery sessions are required for students in this course.

5. What is the approximate cost to acquire the materials necessary? Which of these will be continuing costs?

There are no new costs to the library for the support of this course.
