The Library Impact Statement for DBA 625 Social Ethics and Evidence-Based Management states that students will not be conducting research in the course, and the proposed syllabus clarifies that, as assignments, students will be graded on participation and reading responses and peer reviews.

With regard to the question about what critical journals, monographs, and electronic resources the University Libraries must have to support the course, the response is “Not applicable.”

Based on my review of the Library Impact Statement and the proposed syllabus for DBA 625 Social Ethics and Evidence-Based Management, I conclude that the University Libraries can meet the needs of this course with no additional resources.

In my role as Subject Selector for the College of Business, I support the addition of this course.
