Assessment of:

- Suitability of existing library resources;
- New library resources required to support the program;
- Information skills education required by the students; and
- Funds needed for library materials and services.

Please include:

1. What library holdings already exist in relevant subject categories. How much money is now allocated in the subject area?

The library holds substantial monographic and journal information in Education and classroom practices. We also own recent relevant materials related to teaching Chinese in the classroom. The allocation for monographs for Languages for 2017-18 is approximately $6,000. The allocation for Education is $5,000.

2. Does URI have the essential journals as noted in the Faculty Questionnaire?

There are no essential journals noted in the Faculty Questionnaire. URI does not subscribe to the recommended journal listed on the questionnaire: Chinese as a Foreign Language. Professor He indicates that he will post copies of relevant readings as needed on the course Sakai page. The Library subscribes to other titles relevant to Chinese linguistics and to classroom teaching.

3. What new resources are required to support the course (including media, electronic, or other non-print materials)?

No new library resources are required to support this course.

4. What information mastery sessions will be required for the students?

No information mastery sessions are required for the students.

5. What is the approximate cost to acquire the materials necessary? Which of these will be continuing costs?

There are no new or continuing costs for the library associated with this course.
