Assessment of:

- Suitability of existing library resources;
- New library resources required to support the program;
- Information skills education required by the students; and
- Funds needed for library materials and services.

Please include:

1. What library holdings already exist in relevant subject categories. How much money is now allocated in the subject area?

The library has substantial current holdings in relevant subject categories. The 2017-18 allocation for monographs for Communication Studies is approximately $9800. Costs for journal subscriptions are not broken out by department.

2. Does URI have the essential journals as noted in the Faculty Questionnaire?

The library subscribes to the one journal listed—Leadership Quarterly—and has access to issues from 1996 forward.

3. What new resources are required to support the course (including media, electronic, or other non-print materials)?

No new library resources are required to support this course.

4. What information mastery sessions will be required for the students?

No information mastery sessions are required for students in this class. The instructor may make an appointment for an instruction session should the need arise.

5. What is the approximate cost to acquire the materials necessary? Which of these will be continuing costs?

There are no new costs associated with this class.
