Has a College Education Value for Me?

Where Can I Obtain It

"Who's Who in America," contains the names of 9,643 markedly successful persons—a representative list from all lines of American effort.

Note the Following Deductions

Of twelve million beginning life, 9,643 MARKEDLY SUCCESSFUL.

Of these, 7,676 markedly successful are from 135,000 with college education.

Of these, 1,967 markedly successful are from 11,800,000 without college education.

That is, WITH a college education your chance for marked success is 1 in 18.

WITHOUT a college education, your chance for marked success is 1 in 6,000.

As the city has given you a free high-school education, so the state and nation are offering you, free at an opportunity, through college education, to increase your chance for success 350 TIMES. Is it not worth while to take the opportunity? Can four years be more profitably spent?

Rhode Island State College

Instruction at Rhode Island State College is free of cost.

Instruction at Rhode Island State College is of high grade.

See estimate of catalogue as to expenses.

See Report of Legislative Commission (1909) as to grade of work.
