Dear Julia and Andrée,

Congratulations! On behalf of the Library Publishing Forum Program Committee, I'm pleased to inform you that your proposal, Bridging the Gaps: Finding Creative Solutions to Unmet Needs in a Growing Library Publishing Program, has been accepted as a 15-minute individual presentation. We received an unprecedented number of excellent proposals for this year's Library Publishing Forum, and your proposal will be part of yet another strong and diverse event.

Over the next few weeks, the Program Committee will assemble and share a tentative Forum program. If there are any constraints on when you can present or you are unable to present in person, please inform us as soon as possible.

In the meantime, we ask that you please do the following:

- Confirm your participation by January 18th by responding to this email.
- Check the schedule at-a-glance on the program page for scheduling conflicts.
- Register for the Forum
 - Registration will open on January 14th.
 - Presenters who register before March 15 are guaranteed a spot. In the event of unexpectedly high attendance, we may not be able to accommodate last-minute registrations.
- Watch DLF's webinar on Creating Accessible Presentations and plan to make your presentation as accessible as possible.

We will need a finalized title, description, and presenter list for your session by Monday, March 11. Please send those to me as they are available; we will follow up the first week of March if we haven't heard from you.

Thank you for participating in the Library Publishing Forum. We look forward to seeing you in Vancouver!
