

Camp ER&L - ER&L 2022 Virtual Conference

March 14–17, 2022

Online

← BACK

RETURN TO PROGRAM | REGISTER NOW

LIVE STREAM: These presentations will be broadcast on the virtual main stage live stream. Live Q&A will take place at the end of the session block after all presentations in that block have commenced.

ON-DEMAND SESSIONS & SHORT TALKS: These presentations will be made available on-demand to all attendees at the start of the conference. The 90-minute presentation time listed for these presentations is for a text-based Q&A session between presenters and attendees.

Session times are subject to change.*

Beyond journals and books: Keeping KBART relevant in a changing information landscape

Wednesday, March 16, 2022 at 2:00 PM–3:30 PM Central Time (US & Canada)

ON-DEMAND SHORT TALK - Presenters available for live Q&A

Conference Track

1. E-Resources Management & Licensing

Abstract

Supporting multimedia and non-traditional content are key components of KBART Phase III. Members of NISO's KBART Standing Committee will discuss the details, including the new fields and how they affect electronic resource access and management. We will leave time for feedback, especially about how proposed changes affect different stakeholder's workflows.

PRESENTERS

Andrée J. Rathemacher, University of Rhode Island

Stephanie Doellinger, OCLC, Inc.

Christine Stohn, ExLibris

Jason Friedman, Canadian Research Knowledge Network

POWERED BY  ProposalSpace®

Privacy Policy • Terms of Use • Rules of Conduct • Trademark Notice