MEMORANDUM

NOVEMBER 17, 1965

TO: SENATOR PELL
FROM: ISABELLE

Ted Holmberg called me this morning to "ask my advice." Bush-Brown had told him that he (BB) and John Fogarty alone were going to make the decision about where the new Repertory Theater would be housed in Providence. Ted's concern was that the Albee Theater would not be given a fair hearing since the 2nd possibility for a home is the School of Design Auditorium. I told him that I thought he was putting the cart before the horse; that the first problem is for Providence to get the theater. Secondly, I doubted that this decision on facility would be made without consultation with you. Then I called Liv to discuss it. He agreed that Ted's worry is premature. However, he suggested that you call Dr. Bush Brown and ask how the meeting in Tarrytown went, and how he thought the whole project could best be developed. If he says he is going to push hard for his auditorium, then at least we know where we stand.

I called Ted back and told him that the best policy right now was lack of publicity for the whole project. He agreed. I promised to keep him posted.
Apparently the report covering Tandy Town meetings incensed Bush because apparently critics兀t meetings for being "secret" when they were supposed to be closed anyway. Dr. Winton said anyway. Dr. Winton said there was much squandering when there was very little. Anyway, all is well and.

Anyway, all is well and.

Also from my conversation, I'm given equal access. Let Ted know!
