Reception
The Federal Women's Program Advisory Committee at the National Endowment for the Humanities has as its special emphasis policies affecting women, but it works on behalf of all NEH employees.

The FWPAC has been successful in assessing and improving working conditions at the Endowment. Since its establishment in 1980, the committee has:

* Sponsored enriching Brown Bag Lunch discussions;
* Organized Black History Month, Women's History Month, and Federal Women's Week Programs;
* Instituted the Telephone Device for the Hearing Impaired (TDD);
* Recommended training for career advancement;
* Provided CPR courses;
* Sponsored annual support staff receptions to recognize support staff;
* Advocated the Alternate Work Schedule.

The FWPAC provides a voice for all employees.
